Plan Allocation

54. SHRI JAGDAMBI PRASAD YADAV: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

- (a) whether Bihar and U.P. are the most backward States in the country; and
- (b) if so, whether in view of the backwardness in these two States the Union Government propose to increase the plan allocation for these States to enable them to improve the living conditions?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PLANNING AND PROGRAMME IMPLEMENTATION (SHRIMATI RATNMALA D. SAVANOOR): (a) and (b) Taking into account various socio-economic indicators the States of Bihar and Uttar Pradesh are lagging behind vis-a-vis national average. The Gadgil-Mukherjee formula for allocation of normal Central assistance among States gives weightage to backwardness of the States. In addition to this Special Area Programme like Drought Prone Area Programme (DPAP) and Hill Area Development Programme (HADP) in Uttar Pradesh are also being implemented. These States are also benefitting through allocation of larger Central assistance for Basic Minimum Services (BMS) which is being given keeping in view the gaps in provision of these services. Besides, Central assistance given to States for poverty alleviation programmes like Integrated Rural Development Programme (IRDP) and Jawahar Rozgar Yojana (JRY) takes into account the incidence of poverty. As such, plan allocation to these States gives weightage to their backwardness.
